

[SHERMAN COLLEGE of CHIROPRACTIC]

A Career Focused on Health

Imagine a career — serving in a health field, working for yourself, making a difference in the lives of others. The chiropractic profession is all about helping and serving others. Being in a position to improve people's health, to literally change their lives — this is one of the immeasurable rewards of a chiropractic career.

Chiropractic takes a natural, proactive approach to health care, helping patients achieve good health and function at their optimum capacity, without the use of drugs or surgery. By removing interference to the nervous system, chiropractic allows the body to self-regulate, self-heal, and express itself in a healthier, more vital way.

A Great Life

As a chiropractor, you can build your own practice or help lead a group practice. You'll be your own boss. You'll set your own hours. You'll enjoy the freedom, flexibility and financial rewards of running your own business.

Chiropractic offers an independent career and a unique lifestyle of service to humanity, and employment opportunities for chiropractors exist around the world. Forbes named chiropractic one of America's "most surprising six-figure jobs" in 2009.

Employment of chiropractors is expected to grow faster than average through the year 2016 because of increasing consumer demand, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

I love the environment that Sherman College of Chiropractic has to offer. Sherman is a place where everybody knows you as a person and everyone cares about your career and future. — Justin Snider, D.C., '10

A Hands-On Education

Students learn from our passionate, expert faculty in a hands-on, highly individualized learning environment that makes for extraordinary success among our graduates.

Our 14-quarter program is focused and rigorous, including two years of internship experience in our world-class Chiropractic Health Center, where you will engage in all aspects of patient care in order to develop clinical competency and prepare for licensing exams and practice.

A Perfect Place to Learn and Live

Sherman College is located in Spartanburg, SC, named one of Relocate America's Top 25 Places to Live and Go to School, and rated the top city in South Carolina to live and No. 48 nationally. Spartanburg is not only one of the most beautiful places in the country to live, but it is also one of the most affordable — with a cost of living at 9.6% below the national average.

A Rewarding Career

What better place to enter this thriving, exciting field than Sherman College of Chiropractic? No program is more focused. No place brings more passion to learning. And nowhere will you leave better prepared to succeed.

[SHERMAN COLLEGE of CHIROPRACTIC]

History

Sherman College was founded in 1973 and is named in honor of Lyle Sherman, D.C., a pioneer in the development of chiropractic.

Location & Cost of Living

Sherman College is located in Spartanburg, rated South Carolina's best city to live in. Money magazine calls it one of "Four Booming Locales Where You Can Get a Job and Live Easy." SmartMoney calls it one of the five best real estate buys in the country. We call it home.

Small Classes

Ours is a highly personalized learning environment where faculty members take time to get to know each student. Laboratory and technique classes are kept especially small to ensure close, personal attention from instructors.

Chiropractic Health Center

Our on-campus teaching clinic is equipped with modern chiropractic and adjusting equipment, including digital x-ray, and serves approximately 25,000 patient visits each year.

Expert Faculty

Our distinguished faculty are respected doctors of chiropractic and highly qualified basic scientists from across the U.S. and the world.

Graduate Success

Sherman graduates practice throughout the U.S. and in approximately 25 other countries.

Accreditation

Sherman is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of the Council on Chiropractic Education, the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and licensed by the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education.

Prerequisites

Currently, 90 credit hours of general education and specific basic sciences courses are required for admission to Sherman.

Financial Aid

Nearly 98 percent of Sherman students receive federally funded loans to cover their tuition and cost of living expenses.
