

Sherman College of Chiropractic Announces the International Research and Philosophy Symposium (IRAPS) 2027
Call for Abstracts – Platform and Poster Presentations

Spartanburg, S.C.- Sherman College of Chiropractic is now accepting abstracts for its 22nd International Research and Philosophy Symposium (IRAPS). This peer-reviewed chiropractic conference addresses vertebral subluxation research and the philosophy of chiropractic. Abstracts and the author's CV must be submitted by November 1, 2026 to be considered for presentation at IRAPS 2027, which will be held in conjunction with the college's flagship event, Lyceum, April 29 – May 1, 2027, on the Sherman College campus in Spartanburg, SC. IRAPS presentations are scheduled for Friday April 30 and Saturday May 1.

Topics for abstracts, for both platform and poster presentations, may include:

- Case studies focusing on the location, analysis, and correction of vertebral subluxation (LACVS).
- Philosophy of chiropractic as a component of LACVS-type care.
- Scholarly pursuits that will advance chiropractic education, practice, and the profession.

Abstract Information:

- Abstracts should be formatted as short papers, approximately 300 words, and include appropriate references.
- Authors must include a curriculum vitae (CV) with the abstract.
- Additional information and the rubric for peer review of abstracts are available on the Sherman website at www.sherman.edu/iraps.

Important dates and instructions:

2026:	November 1	Abstracts due
	November 14	Notification to authors
	November 21	Author confirmation to present due
2027:	April 29 – May 1	Sherman's Lyceum/IRAPS 2027
	April 30 – May 1	IRAPS presentations

Abstracts and CVs are to be submitted to Alan Brewster at abrewster@sherman.edu

[Please enter "IRAPS2027" in the subject line.]

Thanks to the generous sponsorship of ChiroFutures Malpractice Insurance Program, we're excited to announce the continuation of the IRAPS Research & Scholarship Awards. Awards will be distributed across multiple categories and evaluated based on alignment with chiropractic principles, innovation, methodological rigor, philosophical depth, and presentation quality.

"The goal of IRAPS is to bring leaders in philosophy and research together, along with practitioners and educators who are centered on vertebral subluxation practice, to build a stronger academic community worldwide regarding the subluxation model of chiropractic," explains Christopher Kent, DC, ACP, JD, Sherman's Director of Global Presidential Initiatives. "The program intends to foster a view that the chiropractic profession is centered on vertebral subluxation, based on vitalism, dedicated to research and developing a discipline of philosophy."

Continuing education credit will be available, and attendees may attend the entire Lyceum program, including IRAPS, or a one-day IRAPS-only package. As a professional courtesy, IRAPS speakers will receive a 25 percent discount at Lyceum registration, and complete program details will be released after speakers have been selected. Conference registration opens in November 2026.

For more information, please contact: Alan Brewster, DC, DACP, Director of the Center for Scholarly Activity, at abrewster@sherman.edu or 800-849-8771, ext. 212.

About Sherman College of Chiropractic. Sherman College of Chiropractic provides students with a comprehensive chiropractic education, preparing them to enter the field as a Doctor of Chiropractic who are highly skilled, compassionate, ethical, and successful. On its 80-acre campus in South Carolina, Sherman offers a professional degree program unique in its approach to health care and known globally for the skill and art of chiropractic delivered by graduates. For more information, visit www.sherman.edu or call 800-849-8771.

###

Alan Brewster, DC, DACP

Director, Center for Research and Scholarly Activity

Sherman College of Chiropractic

abrewster@sherman.edu

864-578-8770 ext. 212

www.sherman.edu